As part of 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' – to celebrate 75 years of Independence, the Centre for Advanced Studies, Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam Technical University launched the magazine- Innovation@CAS. The magazine was inaugurated by the honourable Vice-chancellor of Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam Technical University Prof. Pradeep Kumar Mishra and Director of Centre for Advanced Studies, Lucknow Prof. M.K. Dutta in the presence of Pro-Vice Chancellor AKTU Prof. Manish Gaur, Dean Research and Development Prof. H.K.Paliwal, Dr. Anuj Kumar Sharma and other dignitaries.

The magazine highlights the research and innovation done by the faculties, researchers and students associated with the Institute. It gives a glimpse of the various research work done with their short methodology and merits. In these years, students published their works in internationally and nationally acclaimed publication houses indexed in Scopus and Web of Science. Research works from Centre for Advanced Studies were presented in International and National Conferences Indexed in Scopus. These research works directly or indirectly strengthen the idea of a self-reliant India to make a more skillful India and these research and innovative works can act as strong pillars in the progress of the nation. On this occasion, Vice Chancellor AKTU said that this magazine would guide researchers in developing their technical skills.
